Statutory Standards for the Issuance of Use & Area Variances

Section 267-b of the General Town Law permits the local Zoning Board of Appeals to grant waivers from the strict application of the Zoning Ordinance provisions. However, this relief by law can only be issued under hardship or practical difficulty situations. The following information outlines the tests that must be met before you, as an applicant, would be eligible for a variance. Supporting documentation to these tests must be included in your application submittal.

If a use variance is being requested:

The applicant must demonstrate to the Z.B.A. that each and every permitted use under the zoning regulations for the particular District in which the parcel is located, that:

- ✧ The applicant cannot realize a reasonable return, provided that this lack of return is substantially demonstrated by competent financial evidence;
- ✧ The alleged hardship relating to the property in question is unique and does not apply to the substantial portion of the district or neighborhood;
- ✧ The requested use variance, if granted, will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood; and
- ✧ The alleged hardship has not been self-created.

If an area variance is being requested:

The Z.B.A., in making its determination shall take into consideration the benefit to the applicant if the variance is granted, as weighed against any identified detriment to the health, safety and welfare of the community. It shall also consider:

- ✧ Whether an undesirable change will be produced in the character of the community or a detriment to nearby properties will be created;
- ✧ Whether the benefit sought can be achieved by some other feasible method;
- ✧ Whether the variance is substantial in nature;
- ✧ Whether the variance will have an adverse effect or impact on the physical or environmental conditions of the neighborhood or district; and
- ✧ Whether the alleged practical difficulty was self-created.
